

"I'm not ashamed to go to a resource centre anymore. I realize that it's OK to say that I am struggling. It's OK to say that I don't have the supports I need at home. It's OK to ask 'where can I get support?'. Now, if I have a problem I know where I can get support and deal with my problem the proper way, instead of getting into fights."

